In this prefixes worksheet, students learn and practice the ten common prefixes: under-, super-, re-, mis-, un-, mid-, multi-, pre-, non-, over-. First, students underline prefixes in ten words and then complete sentences using the words. Next, students write the ten prefixes next to their definitions. After that, students circle the prefix that best completes each sentence. Students then move on to add appropriate prefixes to words in sentences. Following that, students complete sentences with words from a box along with a suitable prefix. Lastly, students complete conversation questions by adding prefixes. Then, the students ask and answer the questions with a partner. Next
